Privacy Policy

We take data protection seriously

Protecting your privacy when processing personal data is important to us. When you visit our website, our web servers record your internet service provider's IP as standard, the website you visit us from, the websites you visit, and the date and duration of your visit. This information is necessary for the technical transmission of websites and secure server operation. These data are not subject to personal evaluation.

If you send us data via the contact form, this data will be stored on our server for backup purposes. Your data is only used by us to fulfill your request. Your data is kept strictly confidential. The data is not transmitted to third parties.

Personal data

Personal data is data about you. It includes your name, address and e-mail address. In addition, you do not need to disclose any personal data in order to visit our website. In certain cases, we will need additional information in addition to your name and address so that we can provide you with the service you need.

The same is true when we provide you with informational materials on request or answer your questions. In these cases, we will always keep you informed. In addition, we only save data that you send to us automatically or voluntarily.

If you use one of our services, we usually only collect data necessary to provide our service to you. We may ask you for more information, but this is optional. Every time we process personal data, we do so so that we can provide our service to you or achieve our business goals.

Automatically saved non-personal data

If you visit our websites, we store certain information for administrative and technical purposes. This includes: Type and version of browser used, date and time of access, and IP address.

This data is anonymous and used only for statistical purposes and to improve our internet and online services.

These anonymized data - separately from personal data - are stored in secure systems and cannot be allocated to individuals. This means that your personal data is always protected.

Cookie

If you visit our website, we save information on your computer in the form of cookies. Cookies are small files transferred to your browser by a web server and stored on your hard drive. The information is stored in the cookie associated with the specific terminal device used. However, this does not mean that we directly obtain information about your identity.

On the one hand, cookies are used to make it easier for you to use our services. We use essential cookies to provide the basic functionality of our website.

In addition, we also use cookies to optimize user friendliness (see "Convenience"), which is stored on your end device for a certain period of time. When you visit our site again to take advantage of our services, we automatically recognize that you have visited our site before and what entries and settings you have made so that you do not have to re-enter it.

On the other hand, we use cookies to statistically record the use of our website and to evaluate our offer in order to optimize it for you (see the "Statistics" section). These cookies allow us to automatically recognize that you have already visited our website when you return. These cookies are automatically deleted after a certain period of time.

We also use cookies to optimize our marketing activities and provide customers with more relevant content (see "Marketing").

Cookie preferences can be set again via this link once specified.

We need data processed by cookies for the above-mentioned purposes in order to protect our legitimate interests and those of third parties pursuant to Art.

Of course, you can visit our website without accepting cookies. If you do not want your computer to recognize you on your next visit, you can also refuse the use of cookies by changing your browser settings to "Reject cookies". You can find information about this procedure in your browser's instructions. However, if you refuse the use of cookies, this may lead to restrictions on the use of some areas of our website.
